3 1/2" folded depth

20" width handgrip

Six 1" increment adjustments

4" fixed wheel

For gliding over most surfaces

(Shown at 25")

- Opens to 2 different between arm width, 20" & 25"
- Anodized 1" aluminum frame with single steel cross brace
- Two button release mechanism

- You should always try to sit in a chair with armrests; and preferably one that does not rock. When you are rising from a chair, push off the chair with your arms, never pull on the walker.
- When beginning to walk with a walker, put the walker about one step ahead of you, making sure the legs of your walker are level on the ground. With both hands, grasp the hand grips of the walker for support and walk into it. If applicable, always obey prescribed weight bearing orders.
- Always walk cautiously when using a walker.
- Remove scatter rugs, electrical cords, spills and anything else that may cause you to trip or lose your balance.

The newest addition to Keen's line of mobility aides is the Keen Voyager Dual-Release Adjustable Walker. It is ideal for individuals looking for a light-weight, easy-to-fold, durable walker. Key added features allow the walker arms to open to two different angles; which allows for varying between-the-arm widths and wider points of entry and angle hand placement. Wheels can be adjusted to face forward at both angles. For easy folding, the Voyager Walker also features dual, easy-release buttons which can be operated even by those with limited dexterity. The Voyager Walker is stable, easy to maneuver, and durable. Choose your favorite color option and enjoy the view on your next walk.
